

Richard Hughes

Guitar Teacher

Information for Schools

Ensemble Work	Rock and Pop Bands, songwriting
---------------	---------------------------------

About Richard

Rich, a BIMM graduate, has over 15 years of teaching experience having taught all ages and levels from children to adults, catering to beginners and university students.

Rich creates a friendly, welcoming and relaxed environment which allows students to learn music, catering to student's specific needs and what they want to learn. Whether a beginner or someone who's been playing for a while and is looking to improve or look for some new inspiration, Rich can guide students and help them get there.

Lessons not only focus on techniques and important aspects of guitar playing that are essential but also other musical skills required to be a good, solid musician which Rich has learnt and continues to learn. Skills such as knowing what to play in a song, what equipment and sounds to use and advice on playing in bands. Rich is also happy to guide students through grades if they so wish, primarily using the Trinity syllabuses for Electric, Acoustic and Classical Guitar.